Winemaking:

We have a vathouse which allows us to make each wine regarding its terroir identity and to respect raw materials as much as possible.

We vinify without crushing and with the softest extraction as possible.

Distribution channel:

- Château Sémeillan-Mazeau is sold in supermarket and abroad
- Château Jander is only sold in cellars and on the property.

Born in 1998 from the willing of Mr Jander to create a typical wine property of the Medoc (Château and vathouse on the same place), Vignobles Jander has been built around the Château of Listrac and vineyards of Château Sémaillan-Mazeau.

Since the creation, the team of 5 employees works on 17 ha, with a grape varieties of 53% merlot and 47% of cabernet. Our modern vathouse has been built in 1998 and designed by the architect F.Guyesse, especially known for its impact on the new Bordeaux.

Our philosophy:

"Our objective is to make wine for meals, because the wine is an essential element of the meal and from our culinary tradition. We don't make our wine for professional tastings but in order to please greedy wine lovers. So we pay special attention to well balance bitterness, acidity and sweetness of the tannins. We want to make wine which doesn't prevail meals. We want the perfect food and wine pairing, allowing to highlight the cooking and sublimize our wines."
