CHATEAU OLLIEUX ROMANIS is located in the heart of the Corbières, on the terroir of BOUTENAC raised to the rank of CRU since 2005. The Carignan is the cornerstone of the red wines' blends, some of them are more than 80 years old and are still cultivated. Family estate since 5 generations, the vineyard is on organic culture for nearly 12 years and begins its first year of BIO conversion in order to design wines as natural as possible.

WINEGROWER'S PHILOSOPHY

In the vineyard

Protect the soil so that life will flourish in its natural state.

Foster the balance of the vineyards in their biotope, without artificially forcing production.

Take a preventative approach above all, by preserving natural balances and adapting cultural techniques.

Preserve complex, historical populations and compositions of vineyards, respecting the biodiversity of the vine plants and a plant density that will allow the terroir's full character to shine through.

Support the return and development of biodiversity in vineyard landscapes.

Foster durable and supportive viticulture that is mindful of the health and fulfilment of the employees and the community and business environment.

In the cellars

Vinify the grapes whose ripeness carries the terroir's identity, moulded by the vintage.

Question the systematic use of techniques (osmosis, cryoextraction, etc.) and additives (enrichment, acidification, yeast, etc.) intended to correct imbalances or failings originating in the vines, and which ultimately lead to a wine production that is artificial.

Limit the use of additives intended to stabilise the wine.
