Florent Rouve

In 2013, Jean Rijckaert decided to transfer his business. It is Florent Rouve that has taken up the torch of a careful and low interventionist winemaking (restricted yields, manual harvesting, slow and moderate pressings, indigenous floras, long wine aging, ...). The aim is to express the typicality of the grape and the specificity of the terroir where it comes from.

WINEGROWER'S PHILOSOPHY

"I make wines that are under the sign of the pleasure and the delight, elegant, pure and that have a refreshing and festive virtue ... A first glass should make you desire a second glass, the first bottle invites for opening a second one..."

Domaines are settled in Davayé for the winemaking of Burgundy wines, and the other one at Villette-les-Arbois for the winemaking of Jura wines. We also purchase fine grapes from all Burgundy vineyards, vinified with the same qualitative objective than our own vineyards.
